

Bill of Rights Brochure Project

Project Overview: Create a tri-fold brochure advertising a specific civil liberty or right for either its importance to or removal from the Bill of Rights.

Project Specifications:

- ❖ Choose a specific civil liberty or right found in the Bill of Rights that is of interest to you. Be sure you can find ample information on the civil liberty/right and corresponding amendment you choose.
- ❖ Decide whether you are promoting the liberty/right or preferring its removal.
- ❖ Search the internet/text book for information regarding your choice. Be sure to read articles, editorials, and court cases to gain a clear overview.
- ❖ Include information that will persuade the reader to agree with your point of view.
- ❖ Design and create your brochure using the following parameters:

COVER:

- Clearly state your civil liberty/right and corresponding amendment. Use a graphic design that is eye-catching and entices the reader to look inside.
- Include your name, period, and date.

OTHER PANELS:

- One panel is to be used to explain the history of the civil liberty/right and why the specific liberty/right was included.
- One panel is to be used to persuade your reader to either promote your civil liberty/right or call for its removal from the Constitution.
- One panel is to be used to state your opinion about the specific civil liberty/right (interpretations, aspects which should/not be protected or are abused, etc.) What are the responsibilities attached to this civil liberty/right?
- One panel is to be used to describe our country if this civil liberty/right did not exist.
- One panel is for you to choose from the following: related landmark cases, comparative laws/protections, or global comparisons.

Please note:

- All written information must be typed—no handwritten material. Your brochure is to look realistic, professional and include appropriate citations for source material.
- These are the basic parameters.
- You are encouraged to be as creative as possible through the use of the internet, clip art or other resources to depict the essence of your selected civil liberty/right.
